

Eugenii Aleksandrovich Fersman, father of A.E. Fersman, 1907.

Maria Eduardovna Fersman, mother of A.E. Fersman, 1900.

A.E. Fersman in his pre-school years. Odessa.

A.E. Fersman shows his mineralogical collection to his sister Vera, Crimea. 1893.

A.E. Fersman with his wife Olga Nikolaevna Fersman (born Dutchess Obolenskaya). 1907.

Members of V. Goldschmidt's laboratory, where A.E. Fersman studied crystallography of diamond. Heidelberg, Germany.

A.E. Fersman after field expedition. Khibiny. 1922.

Members of Fersman's field crew, standing left to right: E.A. Elizarovskii, E.M. Monshtedt, A.E. Fersman, N.N. Gutkova, E.E. Kostyleva, E.P. Kessler, A.V. Terentiev, and Z.A. Lebedeva; sitting: V.A. Unkovskaya, B.M. Kupletskii, V.I. Kryzhanovskii, and G.S., Tshaskovskii. Khibiny. 1921.

A.E. Fersman studies avalanche formation in a crack at an elevation of 3000 m. Davos. Switzerland. From album: "Switzerland".

A.E. Fersman with co-workers - departure to Kadam-Djai. 1927.

V.I. Vernadsky and A.E. Fersman. Moscow. 1941.

